BLAINE FIGURES HE HAS SENATE TO SUPPORT HIM

COUNTS ON AID FROM GEORGE HULL, WHITE-WATER "PART TIME."

Administration Looking Over Field Closely After Primary.

Madison—Of paramount interest in Wisconsin politics at the present time is the question of whether the state administration can count on the support of Senator Blaine. The senator, however, has been in the balance and the count stands practically divided between administration and anti-administration members.

General opinion seems to be that followers of Gov. Blaine have a slight advantage in the senatorial lineup. This has resulted from several changes following the primary election Tuesday. Outstanding of these changes is the retirement of Senator Timothy Burke, Green Bay. Senator Burke was the dean of Wisconsin legislators and has been classified as a conservative Republican. John F. Connelley, who gained the nomination over Burke, is claimed to be a progressive.

Counting on Hull. Administration leaders also claim they will have at least the partial support of Hull.

GREEK CONSUL AND BIG FUND ARE MISSING

Chicago—Leonidas Muttis, Greek consul general here, dropped mysteriously out of sight six weeks ago and is still missing, according to a story appearing in the Herald-Examiner today.

At the same time, the paper says, information has leaked out to the effect that a shortage of $25,000 exists in the accounts of the consulate and that on investigation had been ordered by the Athens government.

A Greek consul general, Vasil Muttis, has been named by the Greek government to succeed the missing consul. The assumed change of the local official is being denied.

MARTIN HUGHES LOSTS

Your newspaper will be excellent Saturday and Sunday of this week. It will have a number of entertaining features. Most of them pertain to the human events of the day. That is what we are all interested in—the news as man and woman march along the highway of life. What they are doing, where they are going, what accomplishments are being made—that is the news of the day and the Gazette fills the home bill.

David Lawrence is going to make a transcontinental trip and find out as he goes what is being done and what will happen in the election. You certainly will not want to miss this series of letters. The school children are getting back to books now and the Gazette is one newspaper that can be used in school work.

Oppenheim's story, "The Wrath to Come," is being continued in each Saturday and Sunday edition of the Gazette. It is by far the best story this author has ever written and is a 1924 novel—right to the minute in all ways.

It is time you had the Gazette regularly if you do not get it now. It might be a part of the family life just as is the food and drink.

Damp, Damp, Damp, The Clothes Need Starching

Cheer up, comrades, they will come out of the washing machine looking as fresh and clean as the newly delivered snows of winter!

Because the electric washing machine in question is as good as new, even though it only cost $25.00. It was sold by a Gage & Co. in the city of New York. Mrs. Tisserand, of Center Avenue, Mrs. Tisserand received her replies from her ad, and said the machine the day after her ad appeared.

If you have a washing machine to sell, a Gage & Co. is the place to go. They will buy it for you as it did for Mrs. Tisserand. Just call $25.00 and ask an ad-taker to start the buyers marching in your direction.

She's Most Envied Girl in U. S.

New York—It was all an accident that made Leonora Cahill, small, dark and very attractive St. Louis, Mo. girl, the most envied young woman in the United States.

It was Leonora, you know, whom the prince selected as his dancing partner on the voyage over. There were just other girls and couples, all American beauties, about all of them, just dying to get to dance with the prince. But Leonora was the only one the prince asked for a dance, and she was his partner all the way over, except when he elected to dance with his cousin's wife, Lady Mountbatten, the richest heiress in England.

Mrs. Richard Norton, of New York, it was an accident, as we were saying, that caused Leonora to become famous over night. Unlike most of the other young people on board, she did not scramble frantically to get aboard the prince's ship, the Herosgar, but was put on the ship by accident. She had arranged passage on the Majestic, but owing to some confusion in the London booking office, she was sent to the Herosgar by mistake.

Once aboard, of course, she was curious about the prince and his entourage to dance with him at all the time, but her opportunity came as a surprise. She was dancing with General Trotter of the prince's party, when Richard saw her and he asked the general to introduce him. The world knows the rest.

So in addition to being the most envied girl in the United States, it looks like she is the luckiest.

Prince's Life Threatened in Note

New York—A threat to kill the Prince of Wales, received in a letter by the French consul general, has been turned over to Scotland Yard and secret service men guarding the prince by the bomb squad of the New York detective bureau.

The letter was written in an almost illogical hand, but one sentence stood out clearly.

"I will kill him," it said, referring to the prince.

How the threat became known when Detective Louis Herman brought the message to the Burden estate, near Syosset, L. I., where H. R. H. is a guest.

At police headquarters it was said the letter probably was the handiwork of a crack but that it was being turned over to the royal body guard as a matter of precautionary routine.

Nelson Carried City by 125 Votes

John Nelson carried the city of Janesville in his race for mayor by 125 votes over Lynn A. Whaley, the successful incumbent. Due to an error in the official returns, Whaley was credited with having carried the city by 415 majority. The mistake occurred in the table of the city warding election. Nelson had only 47 votes in the first precinct of the Fourth ward whereas he really gained 485 votes in that district to 229 for Whaley. In the second precinct, Fourth ward, Nelson had 231 votes instead of 221. The change makes Nelson's city total 2,200 and that of Whaley 2,175. It does not change Whaley's majority of 1,526 in the county, however, as the error did not occur in the county table.

ROSHOLT ROBBERY SUSPECT CAPTURED IN NEARBY WOODS

Rosholt, Wis.—A posse of 100 men, surrounding the woods three miles east of this village at noon today, captured a suspect in the robbery of the Rosholt State bank.

The man gave his name as Robert Meyer and said he came from Chicago. The man killed by possession yesterday was identified as Joe Boglinski, a native of Russia who has been in America, with residence at Chicago, about a year.

Boglinski is survived by a widow in Russia and a brother living near Galloway, Wis.

INQUEST INTO DEATH OF UNIDENTIFIED BANDIT

Wausau—Coroner W. C. Heilman today impounded a jury and went to Stevens to hold an inquest over the dead bandit who was killed there yesterday after fleeing a successful attempt to rob the Rock State bank. His identity has not been established.

In a value taken from the car abandoned by the bandit was found a collar with a "JEO" laundry mark, but there was nothing else to establish the identity of any of the party.

In the value was a copy of the Illustrated Weekly Herald, published at Chicago, Aug. 28. There was also an old fashioned revolver of foreign make. The dead man and the two who escaped were armed with automatics.

That the men were starting on a career of crime was evidenced by the fact that three pairs of rubber gloves, three pairs of shoes, two pairs of blue bandana handkerchiefs, which they used for masks at Rosholt.

Officers who were out all last night returned this morning reporting no further trace of the escaped man. One is believed to have gone to the Rosholt laundry, and the other probably toward this city, but their trail seems to have been lost.

Walter T. Danke, the young man under arrest, sticks to his story that he was captured and forced to drive the bandits about in his automobile and investigations go for support his claims.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Lancaster—District Attorney George B. Clementson, who today was ordered removed from office by Governor Blaine, threatened to carry his case to the state supreme court should the governor insist on carrying out his order. Clementson announced his intentions in an interview here this morning.

Clementson characterized the charges made by the executive as unfair and untrue. He stated he will continue to oppose the removal of his office on Sept. 9, when the governor's order becomes effective, unless revoked.

Clementson announced he will go to Madison on Sept. 9 to appear before the governor and seek to refute the charges made by the executive's letter. The district attorney retires from office in three months, after eight years in the office. He was not a candidate for reelection in Tuesday's primary.

"I wish to retire with a clean slate," Clementson said, "and if Governor Blaine takes my name off the list, I will appeal to the state supreme court. The governor seemed to think I should make a mob out of that little disturbance at Lake Koshong, Thursday night. It was not such a thing and I refuse to go out of my way to create trouble."

Clementson denied he is a member of the hooded order. The district attorney charged the action of the governor as a "political move." He characterized the executive's methods as "imperialistic."

Joe McConnell Is Taken; Pays $1000

A squad of state prohibition officers swooped down on the cottage of Joe McConnell, known locally as the "king of the bootleggers," at Lake Koshong, Thursday night, and confiscated three and one-half gallons of moonshine liquor.

Charged with the possession of illicit intoxicants, McConnell was arraigned before Judge H. L. Maxwell in municipal court late Thursday afternoon. He pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $1,000 and costs, the maximum.

Is Heavy Fine.

A warrant for the search of the cottage was secured here by Officers Paulson, Honing and Hoyer of the state prohibition department Thursday morning.

The place was raided in the afternoon and the liquor found by the officers who brought McConnell to Janesville. He pleaded guilty immediately and paid the heavy fine, one of the largest ever imposed in municipal court for such an offense.

McConnell has been under local and county observation for months. His place in Janesville has been raided on several occasions, but no evidence secured.

His operations are said to have been most successful and stories have circulated in the city regarding huge sums alleged to have been made by McConnell through his bootlegging activities. He has been living at Lake Koshong during the summer months.

GREEN WON'T FACE OKLAHOMA CHARGE

Blaine Denies Extradition Papers for Prominent Evansville Stock Man.

A warrant charging embezzlement, obtained in Oklahoma, was served on Dr. Green, Evansville farmer and stock dealer, Thursday, but in the hearing held before Governor John J. Blaine, extradition papers were refused.

The charge follows the investigation at the Oklahoma state institute for feeble minded when Dr. M. M. McCord left the state institution. It was alleged that McCord was responsible for the driving of 75 head of valuable sheep from the state farm and it was alleged the sheep were delivered to Green to be sold.

Dr. Green, who was said to have been indicted in the case and a Oklahoma sheriff came to Evansville to serve the papers on Green, who promptly refused to waive extradition rights.

The Nolan firm of attorneys represented Green at the Madison hearing and reports from Madison show that the governor found that there was no cause to accuse Green of the embezzlement charge, the Rock county man testifying he was only an agent selling the stock at the request of McCord.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Milwaukee—When all 48 precincts in the state had reported some officially, but the majority unofficially, the count for Governor Blaine stood at 67,933 over Arthur H. Hirst.

Warn of Frost in Low Places Tonight

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Milwaukee—First, the first of the season, is predicted near Milwaukee tonight, according to Forecaster W. P. Stewart. This, however, will not be heavy enough to damage vegetation, but it is the minimum temperature is expected to reach 50 degrees.

The weather bureau at Chicago sends warning of frost to the Gazette, "extremely cool night and it is possible that light frost may form."

Damage Seen

In the event the prediction of a sharp frost on low ground in southern Wisconsin Friday night or Saturday morning proves true, farmers may be forced to take a heavy loss on the corn crop. The corn in this section is in such a state a sharp frost would ruin the crop except for shag.

Last year, high prices every farmer has been hoping and praying for three weeks more of dry and warm weather to assure a sound crop. An early frost would mean a ruined crop, for most of the field corn is either in the milk stage or slightly advanced.

Tobacco would likewise suffer. Late crops of corn, cotton and tobacco would be badly damaged by a sweeping frost and freeze.

Thrashing progress has been slow. Thrashing has progressed until now 10 days and some of the grain crops are in the bin.

"Let's hope it's only a slight frost for if it is severe, our corn crop is ruined," it was stated at the Farm Bureau office. "It is evident that the raise in corn prices was fully warranted by the short crop and prospects of a poor yield. Not only has the present crop not set back by wet and cold conditions, but considerable of the crop shows the poor quality seed and lack of germination."

Edgerton Loses Oldest Citizen Through Death

Edgerton—Edgerton loses its oldest pioneer with the death here, at 3 p. m. Thursday, of Mrs. Mary Sweeney, widow of Miles Sweeney, with whom she settled in the town of Porter in 1835. Mrs. Sweeney was 94 years old, died at her daughter's home, Mrs. Katherine Mayland, after suffering for three years with a broken hip.

Mrs. Sweeney was a woman much beloved by all who knew her. She raised a family of 12 children, eight of whom survive. She emerged from the arduous life of a pioneer to enjoy the comforts that modern inventors have brought. Back county was only sparsely settled when the young couple came here from Pittsburgh, Pa., and settled on a tract of land which, by great effort, was made into a well-producing farm. Her husband was obliged to haul the grain to market at Milwaukee in a cart drawn over trails by oxen.

Came From Ireland.

Mary Sweeney early in life learned the art of making butter and the comfort that it means to have in the home. She was a good housewife and a good mother. She was a member of the Methodist church and was very active in its work.

She was born in Ireland, in the town of Carrigrohane, county of Kerry, on September 10, 1830. She came to America in 1848, when she was 18 years old.

Tomatoes, Apples, Particularly

Appearance of early fall fruits and vegetables, and the coming of the summer varieties makes the stock of local produce this week among the most diverse, as well as most abundant, of the season. Notable among the new arrivals this week is the first shipment of Concord grapes, in the familiar baskets, at 45 cents each.

Dealers are advising those who wish to eat them to purchase within the next few days, as they believe they will not be so low as they are now. They are 5 to 8 cents a pound, or $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel.

Early fall fruits include cooking apples at 2 cents a pound; Michigan eating apples, two pounds for 25 cents; large culms, 7 cents each; Italian plums, 10 cents a dozen; blue plums, 10 to 15 cents a dozen, with red ones at the same prices. The extra large size blue plums are 50 cents a dozen.

Saturday will mark the opening of two more newly paved streets to traffic, Walker street, east of Milton avenue, extending two blocks to Garfield, will be thrown open, along with all of Monroe street, from Walker to Glen. Glen street, Milton to Garfield, will not be opened until Monday. Monroe and Walker streets were being scraped of the dirt covering Friday preparatory to removal of the barriers on Saturday.

Finish Sherman Avenue.
Exceptionally favorable weather this week has made possible the completion of Sherman and Peoria avenues and half of Milwaukee avenue. All of the work west of Milton avenue has now been finished.

Sherman avenue Milton to Peoria, a distance of two blocks, was completed at 2 p. m. Thursday so that it will be possible to open this street to travel on Sept. 15. Peoria avenue, St. Mary's to Peoria, three blocks, will be opened Sept. 21, and St. Mary's avenue, Milton avenue to Peoria, three blocks, about Sept. 29.

Start on Ringold-Garfield.
The mixer that has been working on Sherman avenue was moved up on completion of that job to the last block of St. Mary's avenue on the east, from Milton to Garfield. The remainder of St. Mary's avenue was finished on Aug. 29, but this block was not done at that time as it was necessary to have it open for the trucks to reach the Monroe and Walker street jobs. Half of this block on St. Mary's was poured Thursday and Friday, and the balance will be finished Saturday. In the meantime the mixer will start pouring on Garfield avenue.

Mixer No. 2 finished the paving of both sides of Milwaukee avenue, from East to Garfield, two blocks, on Saturday morning, and was moved over to Ringold street which will be paved from Milwaukee avenue to Raper avenue.

It had been planned to move this mixer over to North Washington street but this was prevented when the Janesville Traction company notified the contractor, R. H. Bird, that it was necessary to have the tracks to reach the Monroe and Walker street jobs. A further delay of several days is thus incurred on that job.

The remaining unpaved stretch of Milwaukee avenue, Garfield to Ringold, is being excavated. Excavation is also proceeding on Garfield avenue and Marshall place.

If favorable weather continues for two more months. The program calls for 166,000 square yards of paving and it is estimated that by Saturday night at least 82,000 yards will have been laid. All the curb and gutter work has been completed and considerable excavation work has been finished, so that these two matters into consideration the project is actually better than half done.

Saturday will mark the opening of two more newly paved streets to traffic, Walker street, east of Milton avenue, extending two blocks to Garfield, will be thrown open, along with all of Monroe street, from Walker to Glen. Glen street, Milton to Garfield, will not be opened until Monday. Monroe and Walker streets were being scraped of the dirt covering Friday preparatory to removal of the barriers on Saturday.

Finish Sherman Avenue.
Exceptionally favorable weather this week has made possible the completion of Sherman and Peoria avenues and half of Milwaukee avenue. All of the work west of Milton avenue has now been finished.

Sherman avenue Milton to Peoria, a distance of two blocks, was completed at 2 p. m. Thursday so that it will be possible to open this street to travel on Sept. 15. Peoria avenue, St. Mary's to Peoria, three blocks, will be opened Sept. 21, and St. Mary's avenue, Milton avenue to Peoria, three blocks, about Sept. 29.

Start on Ringold-Garfield.
The mixer that has been working on Sherman avenue was moved up on completion of that job to the last block of St. Mary's avenue on the east, from Milton to Garfield. The remainder of St. Mary's avenue was finished on Aug. 29, but this block was not done at that time as it was necessary to have it open for the trucks to reach the Monroe and Walker street jobs. Half of this block on St. Mary's was poured Thursday and Friday, and the balance will be finished Saturday. In the meantime the mixer will start pouring on Garfield avenue.

Mixer No. 2 finished the paving of both sides of Milwaukee avenue, from East to Garfield, two blocks, on Saturday morning, and was moved over to Ringold street which will be paved from Milwaukee avenue to Raper avenue.

It had been planned to move this mixer over to North Washington street but this was prevented when the Janesville Traction company notified the contractor, R. H. Bird, that it was necessary to have the tracks to reach the Monroe and Walker street jobs. A further delay of several days is thus incurred on that job.

The remaining unpaved stretch of Milwaukee avenue, Garfield to Ringold, is being excavated. Excavation is also proceeding on Garfield avenue and Marshall place.

THE MIRICLE OF THE MILES

COMMENT ON THE UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7.

Read John 4.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

What a happy world this would be if we could all have faith enough to know that everything is all right. Not only would we be happy and cease to worry, but we would be free from a great many physical ills. It is very easy to tell a man who has strong imagination and is worshipping himself from fear of the future, not to worry. It is another thing to apply your own advice to yourself under similar circumstances. Christians should never worry, never fear. If we believe what we profess to believe, if we believe the promises of God as given us in the Bible, we have absolutely no excuse for worrying. Worrying means that our faith is not quite certain. We believe the Bible of course, but we fear God does not do things in the same way now. We live in a day of electricity, of telephones and airplanes, of radio and automobiles. We fear the plain promises were not intended literally.

When Jesus stopped at Jacob's well in Samaria and talked to the Samaritan woman, the rabbi who had been teaching her, he had been teaching her that the Messiah would come and that she should wait for him. This woman was not a good woman and here was this man who pretended to be the Messiah, out-racing custom.

One thing I hate more than anything else in the world is to see a man who is trying to do his best in religion and politics and in every other way in the world, and who is being out-raced by a man who is doing nothing but what is right. This woman was not a good woman and here was this man who pretended to be the Messiah, out-racing custom.

One thing I hate more than anything else in the world is to see a man who is trying to do his best in religion and politics and in every other way in the world, and who is being out-raced by a man who is doing nothing but what is right. This woman was not a good woman and here was this man who pretended to be the Messiah, out-racing custom.

Jesus remained only two days in Samaria and then travelled to Cana, the place near home, where he had attended a wedding and performed his first miracle. His fame had spread and when he got home he asked what time the boy began to mend and it was the hour when Jesus had given him his word.

There is a similar story in the 7th chapter of Luke of the healing of the centurion's servant. They are so closely parallel that it is easy to believe they represent the same incident, the difference being in the telling.

Faith healing is nothing new. It has been a tenet of the Christian belief ever since Jesus used his wonderful powers. There is not a Christian church in this land of ours, or in any other land, but the pastor at the services and at his home prays to God for the healing of the sick. Do we believe this is possible, that such a prayer can and will be answered or do we think it is just a perfunctory sort of hypocrisy?

I have no patience with the so-called faith healers. They even go so far as to follow the Oriental custom prevalent in Jesus' day of sending a handkerchief or an apron or some token to heal. The Oriental were great on signs and Jesus rather resented this. The nearest to his patience he came was when he said, "Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe." The signs and wonders were a very small part of his work, the healings and the miracles were only incidents to help him in a closer touch with the people he wanted to reach.

I believe in faith and in the healing power of prayer and that God hears our prayers and answers them, but if I am sick I want a doctor right away. If I am hit by an automobile and have some broken bones I want a surgeon. I know perfectly well that prayer is all right and I pray for a competent man who knows how to set that bone so the leg will do its work afterward.

Of all the disgusting kinds of religion to me is the kind that sits down and piously refuses to do a thing and tries to shoulder the whole job on God.

In this story a man not a Jew believed and had faith in Jesus and his son was saved while all about Jesus the Jews refused to believe. There are a lot of men living in the U. S. A. today who are not Christians and whose faith and actions put Christians to shame.

The power of God to take care of us is like the miracle of the miles. It knows no time and takes account of no distance.

There's a Third Degree for Poor Motor Fuel

"Oh pshaw! I guess motor fuel is all alike. Or anyway, if it isn't, the proof is too hard for me to dig up!"

Nothing suits poor cheapened fuel better than putting over this hard boiled bluff that you can't get the goods on it. Don't stand for it. You can wring out the convicting evidence in short order if you put on the right pressure. Here's the "Third Degree" That Wilts the Bluff:

1. Clear your tank and vacuum apparatus of ordinary gas. Fill with a test quantity of Wadhams; warm up and drive to a good carburetor service station.
2. Let an expert set that carburetor correctly preferably while the car is pulling on the road instead of idling. (You'll see that he thins the mixture.)
3. Test the pull and drive of the car any way you please, noting the results critically—quick firing, smoothness, speed, power, hill climbing and degree of heating tendency.
4. Exhaust the test quantity and run out with a replacement of ordinary fuel, making allowances for what Wadhams may be left in the vacuum tank. When you know the second fuel is coming through—and you'll know it right enough—repeat the tests made with Wadhams.
5. That's all! You will have your case complete. If the poor fuel moves you at all on that thin, full-air carburetor-setting, it will be at the expense of continued missing, sputtering and so enfeebled a pull that no doubt can remain.

Wadhams True Gasoline

invites and urges this test, with the certain knowledge of what it must reveal—clean, sharp-firing, true explosiveness and missless power on the thin mixture of real economy, against the dull, balky, broken action of a fuel carbon-laden and kerosene-sodden to the point of confessed unusability with the proper proportion of air. Interpret the evidence as you should—smoother, more comfortable and less costly driving mile by mile, and at the season's end the economy of a motor that needs no overhaul.

PARKER PEN PLANT HAS RECORD WEEK

Shipments Average 10,000 Daily—New Type Pencil Produced.

The Parker Pen company experienced the largest business last week in the history of the organization, according to George S. Parker, president of the company. An average of 10,000 fountain pens were shipped daily from the plant to dealers throughout the world. Mr. Parker said, and it is expected that tabulated figures for the month will show an unusually large sales record.

A new model, corresponding to the Parker Duofold pen, is now being put on the market by the company, and from reports of dealers, will be popular with the trade, Mr. Parker said.

The idea for the marketing of the pen was suggested by W. W. Davies, Pacific coast representative of the company. As a result, it was decided to perfect a pencil that would have a close relationship with the Duofold pen.

The new pencil is of large size and fits nicely in the hand. The interior mechanism is of hardened aluminum and the exterior of the same material and color of the fountain pen. The features of the pencil is an eraser attachment. It has been named the Parker Duofold Pencil.

Within the past few weeks an additional employee has been taken on by the organization, Mr. Parker said, and indications point to one of the most successful years in the history of the company.

GOVERNOR SUSPENDS DISTRICT ATTORNEY OF GRANT COUNTY

ability of bloodshed, such as has been repeatedly demonstrated at Berlin, Ill., and other places.

"The governor further declared that he has obtained no substantial evidence of the Klan, and it must not be permitted to get a foothold in Wisconsin."

The letter was written as result of a hooded demonstration at Boscobel three weeks ago and difficulties at Muskego, also in Grant county. Last Tuesday, as a result of which, Leo Manning was shot and is in a Madison hospital. Numerous appeals have come to the executive to take a hand in the Grant county situation. It is said.

Charges by Governor

The governor charges that Clementson failed to follow his orders regarding prosecution of those charged to have been involved in the Boscobel demonstration when a deputy sheriff is alleged to have been assaulted.

"The Ku Klux Klan is an organization that hides itself behind a mask and as such is a potential menace to the peace and security of our citizens under any circumstances," the governor's letter said. "It incites to riots and lawlessness and endangers the possibility of bloodshed, such as has been repeatedly demonstrated at Berlin, Ill., and other places."

"It has obtained no substantial foothold in Wisconsin. It must not be permitted to get a foothold in Wisconsin."

Your attitude, as evidenced by your telegram to me of Aug. 23, tends to encourage and give aid and comfort to that organization and tends to encourage bloodshed, such as occurred in the last 48 hours at Muskego.

del on Aug. 16 was menacing. It produced a state of fear and terror among the citizens of that community and among the Klansmen were criminals and rapists. Some of them were known to be carrying concealed weapons, and altogether the demonstration was such as to justify the police officer in unmasking the perpetrators and bringing to light the perpetrators of a heinous crime.

"Whether he went beyond the necessary bounds is not a question that I propose to debate. He was not acting under any ordinary circumstances."

"Therefore, your failure to carry out the lawful directions issued to you by the executive in pursuance of the constitution brings you within the condemnation of the statute and indicates that you have willfully neglected and refused to perform your duties as district attorney for Grant county."

Suspended From Office

"Therefore, an order has been issued Friday suspending you from the office of district attorney for Grant county, effective the ninth day of September, 1924, unless you show cause before the governor, in his office at the capital at Madison, Wis., on that day at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, why that order of suspension should be set aside."

Grant county is the executive's home county. He spent Monday and Tuesday of this week there and is understood to have conducted a personal inquiry into the situation regarding the Klan. Feeling in the county has been somewhat improved, it is reported. The suspension of Clementson is a climax of a situation which is said to have been developing for two or three months.

Due to a error in the Wisconsin Power and Light Company's advertisement on the financial page Saturday, the telephone number was given 2907. This should have read 2907, as that is the correct number of this concern.

Republican Ballot for Wisconsin Will Be Mess of Political Tanglefoot

Madison—The platform convention of the republican party in Wisconsin which, under the statute, meets Sept. 16, is confronted with a most anomalous situation.

With the majority of that convention in favor of La Follette for president, the republicans will not endorse the republican national ticket, although opportunity will be given for such action. If the regular republicans who are in that convention are afraid to present such a resolution, it will certainly add to the mixed character of the political tanglefoot.

Ballot Messed Up

The platform convention has to name 13 electors and they will be for Coolidge. No endorsement will be made of the president, for all the candidates on the state ticket will be opposed to Coolidge. At the head of the ticket will be the words, "Republican."

For president, Calvin Coolidge; for vice president, Charles G. Dawes; and then the names of 13 electors who will be ostensibly at least for the heads of the ticket. But then will follow the names of the state officials who are opposed to Coolidge and Dawes. In another column will appear the name of Robert M. La Follette and Burton Wheeler, and a list of 13 electors for the senator. In order to vote for La Follette and the state officers, every ticket will have to be split in two. That will be confusing to lots of the voters and plenty of wrongly marked ballots may be looked for.

Is Absurd Farce

We shall have the anomaly, among other things, of a republican ticket which, should the La Follette people go for as they want, will endorse a man not on the ticket, endorse some on the ticket, repudiate the ticket it
